

Corona News 07/09/2021 fraud false reports gifts

Today I would like to work through my keywords one after the other. So we start with fraud. Well, test center and fraud, haven't we had that before? Right, too many people were or are still being billed, people who weren't there at all. And now level 2. Means that the data obtained in the test centers can be used to make money again. Called data sales. Professor Lauterbach has a lot to report on at Markus Lanz at the beginning of July 2021. Even Lanz is amazed. Let's read it: Even in his constituency he knows a test center with a gigantic security gap, tests in shisha bars and other business premises, the data is what is interested in the underworld. The data was worth gold. The dates were open if you will. There were huge security gaps, the data could be accessed at any time by third parties from many providers. We talk about name, addresses, email, phone numbers. When asked by Lanz: Lauterbach: "Everything. You register with your real name. "Well, please, data protection is a top priority, that was already important to us with the app.

And speaking of fraud: It's hard to believe that around 2,500 people in India were injected with a saline solution instead of a vaccine in order to get paid twice. At the possible cost of the lives of the people, because it is not yet known whether all people who have been injected wrongly will ever be found who are traveling through the country with a false sense of security.

And then we come to false reports or missing reports. Do you know you say. No, you do not know, I do not mean the reports that are distributed every day in dozens of social media such as TikTok and Co., fake videos and post-dubbed reports, but I mean reports from official bodies, the federal government, Spahn and Co. While Ms. vd Leyen warns of these false reports at EU level and emphasizes again that garlic does not help against Corona, which is not true at all, because with enough garlic consumption, the distance is maintained automatically and much larger, Mr Seibert tries to limit the damage, because the federal government and he always reports only with facts and the truth, and nothing but the truth. And if it's not the truth, then you didn't know any better. So.

And one of the greatest truths of the federal government and Spahn is and has been for over a year, wearing masks is the key to fighting a pandemic, at least as long as you haven't had any vaccinations. But even now masks are still important, at least we should believe, so Spahn still believes, at least he spreads it. And we all know how committed he was to buying masks all over the world last year, and there haven't been any for a long time, so everyone was allowed to deliver, certified or not, first put them in. First the surgical masks, then the FFP2 masks came into play, which are so much better. And the citizens believed it and paid expensive money: Today you get thrown the masks afterwards. But not only that. Did you hear about it last year that there were faulty masks on the market that were happily sold and bought because (almost) no one knew about it. Spahn, and others too, I mean the citizens. Of course, that was not communicated. Today nobody asks himself why many old citizens died or became infected despite masks. At that time it was said succinctly: Age makes you more susceptible, they had previous illnesses and would have died soon anyway. It sounded plausible, today nobody can say and check how many faulty masks there were, there will have been millions that were in circulation, and there are still today, because who knows the faulty masks. Certainly, they may now have disappeared from the legal market, but sales on Ebay can go on in the meantime. But how many people still have supplies at home and don't even know that their masks are of little or no use? And that in the times of the India variant, which is now the largest variant of infection in Germany.

This is not about one or two FFP2 or KN 95 masks, but, you won't believe it, about 40 models that were classified as unsafe until July 2021 alone. There are also around 50 models from 2020, for which this also applies. And where do 90% of these masks come from? Well, it's a question of price. Right, from China. Carted in by the federal government a la Spahn. Basically useless stuff for a lot of money. There are many types of complaints depending on the mask: some are too permeable, others too thick, and there is a risk of suffocation. Those are still the harmless cases, if one may put it that way. It becomes criminal if the masks are printed with the wrong CE mark in order to trigger a feeling of security. In addition, there are masks without certification and other reasons. So a big mess. And because the federal government is not that factual and serious when it comes to reporting defective masks and sweeping it under the table, I will publish a list of the masks in question at the weekend. Approval is currently in progress. It is every citizen's right to know that. Incidentally, I can already report that this list was created by the Federal Institute for Occupational Safety and Health and can be reached under the following link: <https://bit.ly/3wpBJXb>

India theme - variant. All countries, even Germany, know that this variant is highly contagious, about 8 times as strong as the basic virus. But what does Maass want, Dr. Gassmann from the Association of Statutory Health Insurance Physicians and Spahn: End of all measures, no more masks, no more distance, no limitation of personal meetings. Everything open, everything free. So that even those who are not vaccinated can and should get infected as quickly as possible, because herd immunity is sought after, and they need more than those who are willing to vaccinate, who are slowly becoming scarce. Because even a politician with a limited perspective in this matter, of whom we are demonstrably well equipped, should actually recognize and that was always prayerfully said that the mask protects against infection by 80%. And that shouldn't be anymore? Because we have learned (we, the citizens, not the politicians mentioned) that people who have been vaccinated can also become infected and spread the virus, but remain symptom-free themselves. What does this actually mean for unvaccinated people as soon as the mask requirement falls? You can almost 100% assume that people who still wear a mask are not vaccinated. And in its vicinity you can feel and stay 100 times safer than in the vicinity of vaccinated people, because they can throw the virus on you without you noticing it, only when it is too late.

But on to the topic of perspective, I have the feeling that we have to deal with more here, because, as I said, many politicians lack that. What is happening in England Over 280 incidence, Germany would be completely closed to the value, England has vaccinated over 50% twice, and yet all corona rules in England are to fall from July 19. It's starting now, 65,000 spectators at the last football game England Denmark, many without masks, close together and so on. The number of infections is increasing, and Germany seems to like that, our values have fallen too quickly and too much, we (the federal government) want to change that. Therefore, up to 25,000 spectators at events, and the remaining restrictions removed - so that we can get something to do in the intensive care units again soon. And because we want to use our options, the quarantine is no longer applicable to England. It's practical. But that's not all - a new variant has already been discovered, it should come from South America. What it does, what it wants, how it works, nobody knows what, but don't worry, we will soon be fully and truthfully informed. The fact that there are still countries that still take Corona seriously is Japan. As it has now become known, the upcoming Olympics in Tokyo will take place without spectators.

But I would like to expressly praise Mr Spahn and other unnamed people: Because the demand is in the room, first of all, everything gone for vaccinated people, should a lockdown ever occur again, then it only applies to unvaccinated people. And I think that's great for once. Why do you ask? You see, I have to work every day again now, zero short-time work is over. But when the next lockdown comes, as an unvaccinated person I can stay at home while the vaccinated people work for me. Isn't it great?

Now I have to criticize Spahn again, and also others unnamed. There are vaccinations for children from 12 years. This group of people now finally want to vaccinate the youngest with Biontech. Allegedly, one also needs children to be able to achieve herd immunity at all. But the STIKO vaccination recommendation does not go in this direction, and some do not like it at all. You are now putting pressure on members of the STIKO, who are medically knowledgeable, which cannot be said of politicians, and simply want to tell you the political vaccination march: you want to reconsider your decision. And today Spahn announces that he will shortly approve the vaccination. Ah, the office clerk vacciologist. After all, the STIK boss has not been intimidated so far and forbids any interference. Söder had also poked the approval horn.

The time is already well advanced, so I am saving more information for the coming weekend, but I would like to announce 3 short messages here. Starting tomorrow, those who have recovered can also have a certificate played on their mobile phone in pharmacies. The prerequisite is proof of recovery, which can be provided via a positive PCR test. An initial vaccination against corona is necessary for this.

And on Saturday there is a vaccination campaign with the Johnson & Johnson vaccine in front of the old town hall in Göttingen, on the market square. As long as stocks last, anyone can receive their first and last vaccination spontaneously and without registration, because allegedly only one vaccination is required for this vaccine. The spectacle starts at 10 a.m., I think if you get in line at 8 a.m., you still have a good chance of getting a vaccination. And all for free.

And I have something else to say about gifts. As the German government announced today, 30 million AstraZeneca vaccine doses will be given away to developing countries. Now we also know why Spahn always likes to buy too much, that was already the case with the masks. So that he has something to give away afterwards - it's not his money.
