

Corona News 03/20/2021 utter chaos

122 million infections worldwide Germany reached 2,639,000 with 74,406 deaths

Infection rates: USA 30 million, India 11.5 million, Brazil 11.8 million, Russia 4.4 million EU: France 4.2 million, Spain 3.2 million, Italy 3.3 million England 4.3 million 2.7 million deaths worldwide. Turkey Argentina Colombia Mexico over 2 million 22 countries over 1 million.

Numbers copyright: Johns Hopkins University & Medicine Coronavirus Resource Center

Germany - figures on March 19, 2021 9:06 a.m. 7 days incidence for Germany 95.6

Total infections: 2,629,750 / + 17,482 on the previous day, deaths 74,358 / + 226 on the previous day

High risk counties:

Cham	250.0	Amberg	255.9	Hof	205.1
Kulmbach	307.4	Wunsiedel i. Fichtelgebirge	212.0	Vogtlandkreis	358.9
Greiz	533.9	Saale-Orla district	297.6	Wartburg distr	332.0
Schmalkalden-Meiningen	291.4	Schwäbisch Hall	293.2	Rosenheim	207.7
Kronach	229.2	Schwandorf	247.5	Elbe-Elster	223.9
Altenburger Land	205.8	Ilm District	206.1	Gera	228.7
Amberg – Sulzbach	214.5	Suhl	212.0	Eisenach	236.7

Copyright Esri Deutschland GmbH Kranzberg on behalf of RKI Germany

A little note about the incidence figures. The city that holds the record in Germany, but is not individually evaluated on the RKI map because it is assigned to the Schwäbisch Hall district, is the city of Schrozberg in Baden Württemberg. Unfortunately, the state health department is not provided with the current incidence figure as of Friday (i.e. today), nor has the city itself published the value on its website. As the LGA told me, however, the value on Thursday would have been 1065 and is said to be over 1200 today.

So what ? My prognosis was correct again; Of course, AstraZeneca was activated again yesterday at all levels in Germany and the EMA has classified the vaccine as safe. What else ? I just wonder what all this pre-skirmishing was about. First there are suspected serious side effects that can lead to death, and AstraZeneca is practically held responsible for them. Everyone denies this, including the President of the Paul Ehrlich Institute.

Then more and more cases will become known throughout the EU that no one can cover up, more and more countries stop vaccinating with AstraZeneca, the authorities must act and Germany will also stop vaccinating. An investigation starts and lo and behold: It is found out what you were looking for and why the whole thing was stopped.

The University of Greifswald states: For some people it is supposed to be a defense reaction of the body that actually starts when a wound heals. Not yet scientifically proven, of course, not even in this short time. But the cause of these thromboses was found, probably the vaccine. And although they have now confirmed what everyone was looking for, the vaccine is recommended again and immediately released in Germany and vaccinated again on Friday. Then why the whole show with examination, stopping and Co.? As we can see: No matter what result it continues. Then you could have examined at the same time and vaccinated further, because the few more dead.

Wait a minute, are not my words, but those of some politicians: You have to weigh the benefits and harms. The damage is relatively small. And then there are comparisons of other death effects of other drugs. Pay attention to the wording used by the EMA and Mr. Spahn: The EMA says there is no evidence that the AstraZeneca vaccine caused the brain thrombosis. Because this cannot be ruled out at the moment, there is a warning on the packaging. For whom? Now Mr. Spahn: It's about weighing up the benefits and risks.

The risk of a rare brain thrombosis is estimated to be lower than the consequences of not vaccinating. So while the EMA does not yet assume that the vaccine was to blame, Spahn clearly does not say this. He talks about vaccination being more important. But that's not what the whole debate was about, he wasn't listening. The question was never whether the whole vaccination should be stopped because of the brain thrombosis, but rather whether AstraZeneca should continue to be used. So his answer is only cheese. Congratulations on this Minister of Health.

And because I'm at the point of criticism, today it is known that the owners and quasi-inventors of the Biontech vaccine against Corona are to be awarded the Federal Cross of Merit in Germany for their outstanding and rapid performance in the field of vaccine production against Corona. The company, which was actually researching an mRNA-based cancer immunotherapy, would have switched to research on corona vaccines in January 2020 and presented the great result in November 2020, which was simply sensational after such a short time on the basis of a new vaccine.

That is true, but I still cannot understand the award. Why not ? Because all the research work in the matter of Corona ONLY came to a result so quickly because money from the EU and Germany flowed in that other companies did not receive. Of course, I can use a lot more manpower and equipment for faster research and also get results faster if I get paid for everything, regardless of the costs. For comparison: the EU investment bank paid 50 million euros to the company Biontech for research into cancer therapy in December 2019, although research into the new vaccine had allegedly started in January 2020.

In June, a further 250 million euros were poured into the coffers through various participations, plus another 100 million euros from the EU investment bank for Corvid 19 studies. In mid-September 2020, Biontech received another 375 million euros, this time from the BMBF Germany for the accelerated vaccine development. I'm sorry; if a company produces such a vaccine development on its own, it is worthy of praise; if money is pumped in until there is a result, probably not. In addition, nobody knows anything about long-term effects, long-term protection, etc.

A "political partner" was probably unable to keep his feet still. My opinion. The figures for the cash injections for Biontech come from wikipedia.org.

The Prime Minister's Conference with Merkel and her assistants is due again on Monday. The unity, which has crumbled more and more from time to time, now seems to be cracking. In an interview about testing vaccination Mallorca and Co., Mr. Müller, RB Berlin, spoke about staying together as long as possible. But everything goes too slowly for him, you can't always wait for the slowest. He now wants to move forward and he knows some will go with him, he wants to enforce mandatory testing for employers and use the LUCA app, if necessary without support.

In terms of Mallorca travel freedom without a test obligation after return, he cannot understand. Mayor Palmer and Prime Minister Dreyer see it the same way. Hotels in Germany would remain closed in order to bring the virus with them from Mallorca. Even Palmer, who is more revealing when it comes to openings than many other cities, clearly sees the limit of what is feasible being exceeded. That too will certainly be discussed on Monday, but it becomes clear here too. Despite a clear attitude to this, the federal government and the Ministry of Health are not really interested in calming down the citizens and giving them freedoms, the consequences can already be dealt with.

Another piece of information for all those who blame the rising corona numbers on the ever-increasing tests and claim that the numbers will not increase at all. Unfortunately, that's only true to a limited extent. While the RKI talks about the fact that the tests do not increase the numbers, other experts say that the influence of positive tests on the numbers of the RKI is estimated to be around 20-30%, the mutations have much more influence, as the values rise sharply. So real values, by the way, the positive ones tested, which are then retested again via PCR, are also real cases of illness and these also belong in the statistics. But despite increasing numbers, cities like Göttingen are still using it with a low incidence, To carry out relaxations. Therefore, starting tomorrow, up to 30 people from a maximum of 3 households can come together again. Children under 14 do not count. Under the same conditions, sport can be done together again. Fitness studios may admit people for a closed group under the same conditions. Visits from other districts are possible in corresponding numbers if the same conditions apply there. Eat great; somehow you have to get the numbers up.

Finally, I would also like to bring a satire. Evil voices had already toured Pfizer to produce more vaccine in the US if AstraZeneca hadn't come back. Concrete ideas were already there: Another important Pfizer production line would have been discontinued and the entire production line would have been converted. Because Pfizer also produces the product Viagra. However, since the personal fate and side effects could not be estimated when the production of Viagra collapsed, this idea was then discarded.